Hylebos overflow, rain threatens homes

by Nathalie Weber

The Hylebos overflowed Saturday night, as the result of record-threatening rain. Federal Way, with a population of between 15,000 and 20,000, was hit by torrential rains that caused the river to rise to record levels. The Hylebos, which normally runs through the Federal Way and Woodland Hills areas, flooded several homes and businesses.

The Federal Way Fire Department worked for several hours Sunday to rescue two people from the Hylebos Creek, just east of the city limits. The two people were rescued from a tree 30 feet above the waterline. The search and rescue team was able to reach them after the water receded.

The area around Federal Way was declared a disaster area by the Federal Government, with aid from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the Red Cross. Send a card to Iran

Imagine yourself tied up, clearly guaranteed that at any moment violence might be visited upon you and that you would be brutally beaten with greatest force. Imagine this, for 30 or 40 days. Imagine, too, that in spite of your best efforts, the strain of staying alive was gradually eroding your confidence, and that all the fantasies and fears you tried to force from your mind were slowly returning. From far away and cut off from the simplest of contacts, everything you dreamt up and guessed and hope that the nation you represent is working to help you. Now, imagine that you were to be delivered by a hundred of Christmas decorations, so many that the Iranian post offices had to be assisted by government intervention.

KOMO radio suggested this week that we all send cards to the Ayatollah of Iran and the hostages in Tehran. Even now we provide an address: U.S. Embassy, 2055 Massachusetts Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. Iran, Thanks. Remember, we don't know if you invented this idea, but our best guess is that it originated with the Ayatollah a Christmas to remember.

Where's the help when we need it?

When the Spring Valley School fried Saturday and Sunday, a group of parents went to various government offices to have their voices heard. Since several parents were absent, the Drunks Bill was passed by a lopsided vote. As a result, the school was being closed on Saturdays and Sundays. The Drunks Bill, which was introduced by the voters of Spring Valley, was not the first to go through the school. It was a result of the school board's decision two years ago to close the school on Saturdays.

Your excellent article in the Dec. 13 issue on the problem of alcohol and drug abuse is a great service to people. We should all do our part to combat this problem. One of the effective ways is for people to be more aware of the dangers of drinking and driving. For instance, educating people about the effects of alcohol on their bodies and the consequences of drinking and driving can be very helpful.

When I was young, a group of soccer players and I were trying to win a game, but we were not able to score anything from it. The referee eventually discovered it, and we had to play another day. It is a lesson that we are still using today. The same lesson applies to many situations in life. This is why it is important to learn from mistakes and try to improve ourselves.

Your article on the problem of alcohol and drug abuse is well written and informative. It is important to raise awareness about these issues and encourage people to take steps to avoid them. One effective way to do this is by providing education and resources to help people make informed decisions.

A stream grows angry

The firemen were already there when I arrived at Spring Valley School Just before noon Saturday. They huddled in the main parking lot, planning the rescue. Fifty yards across the usually melodic Hylebos Creek, stony and cold, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Justus, who operate Spring Valley School, was surrounded by rising water. Between the firemen and the Justus house was a rushing muddy soup, thickened by brambles and boulders, stumps and snags torn loose upstream.

The firemen decided to send for the "scope," their telescoping rescue and firefighting tower. In the meantime, the people in the house could only wait, while the water continued to rise. The Justus home is built between the stream, customarily about 6 feet wide and a wondrous natural classroom for the Spring Valley students, and a sylvan lake of perhaps 5 acres.

At about 10:30 Saturday morning, a footbridge connecting the Justus house to the parking lot gave way to the force of the flooding creek, at that time about 30 feet wide and growing. The footbridge, heavily built with 4-by-6 planks, smashed into the car bridge some 30 yards downstream and, along with accumulated tree debris, tons of water-borne gravel and the force of the raging stream, crushed the concrete structure which was the Justus' last link to safety.

With the bridge gone, and water rising in front of and behind their home, they were effectively stranded on an island. Mrs. Justus, who holds classes for teachers on Saturdays at the school, had earlier crossed over to the main buildings. Inside the house were Mr. Justus, his daughter, Mrs. Marta Foldi of New York, and her sons Christopher and Gregory.

By 11:30, gritty water had worked its way over the stream beds and into the parking lots near the school buildings and was grinding away at the foundations of one building, built on pile blocks. Then the scope arrived and Chief Bud Thorson took charge of the rescue operation.

The scope was gingerly worked under power and phone lines stretched across the stream and extended to the waterlogged front lawn of the home. As Mrs. Foldi and the children stepped into the caged platform on the end of the scope, the worth of this device became clear. Short of a small bridge-building project, attempts to rescue the people stranded at the house would certainly have taken much more time and energy. With the fire department's scope, the task was quickly accomplished. A second trip across and Mr. Justus was picked up, along with the family cat.

All were now safe and dry on the main side of the campus, thanks to the fire department and a device also useful where things are cold and wet, as well as hot and dry.

Police demolition case dismissed

A Superior Court judge has refused to grant a restraining order to keep a police lieutenant assigned to Precinct 3 from being demoted to sergeant.

Judge Peter K. Steere dismissed the request of Lt. Jerry E. Lane Monday. Lane had asked that the King County Department of Public Safety be restrained from demoting him pending the outcome of an appeal of the action to the Civil Service Commission of Sheriffs.

Lane was promoted to the temporary rank of lieutenant in April and placed on one year probation in that position. An unfavorable evaluation of his performance by Capt. James O'Brien, commander of Precinct 3, lead to the demotion, according to court documents filed in the case.

According to court documents, Capt. O'Brien was overheard telling another officer he was "going to submarine" Lane when the two were transferred to Precinct 3. No reason was given why O'Brien might have made such a statement.

Lane, who has never been demoted or incurred a disciplinary action before, will lose about $94 a month because of the demotion.

The 19-year veteran of the police force contended in a deposition that the demotion would destroy his livelihood and asked that the department be made to show cause why the action should be blocked.

Lane, who has never been demoted or incurred a disciplinary action before, will lose about $94 a month because of the demotion.
School discipline

by Cathy Stone

Federal Way school administrators, concerned with the development of a school climate that encourages good behavior standards, recently said the schools do not have any serious discipline problems. However, the real test of that statement is what the teachers have to say.

The teachers commenting on the schools don't have as many kinds of problems experienced in urban areas, teachers at Federal Way High School said. They are problems with disruptive students.

The five teachers commenting on the schools don't have as many kinds of problems experienced in urban areas, teachers at Federal Way High School said. They are problems with disruptive students.

John Metcalf, Decatur High School teacher and president of Federal Way Education Association, said a minor problem in Federal Way as compared to larger urban districts where teachers are threatened or actually attacked by students.

On the other hand, said, "From time to time, the teaching function is interrupted by students who can best be described as disruptive." But, notes Metcalf, this is a good year. From what I've heard and personally observed, the students are considerably better.

Adalene Elemen­tary School teacher Joe Finley thinks they have few discipline problems, not only this year, but in the last three or four years. There may have been problems before. But, some teachers think part of that was due to negative feelings on the part of the parents because of levy failures resulting in hardship, problems and teacher cuts. Those feelings, he said, may have been dispelled with the payment of a $100 scholarship to Des Moines residents.

I'm hoping that is how the discipline committee will take up the question, how do I avoid those kinds of problems? That is, what the committee really needs to do – answer the question, how do I avoid those kinds of problems?

Another Lakota teacher, said, may have been working with disruptive students. "I think that more of my time is being spent in trying to control the disruptive students from the classroom," he said. "This year, I have some kids that need a little more attention, but I think they are doing it again! Changing the dates of the 5th and 6th grade scouting activities such as camping and service projects.

Another Lakota teacher, Ross Tabor says many of the problems stem mostly from home, because it takes away some of my time. He said, "I think that more of my time is being spent on teaching the disruptive students."

Another Lakota teacher, Jean Whitford agrees. "From my point of view at Lakota, it's a beautiful world."

The five teachers commenting on the schools don't have as many kinds of problems experienced in urban areas, teachers at Federal Way High School said. There's a lot of a problem, but not too long. That's the kind of discipline students.

A lot of it has to do with divided families, single parent families or working families which arise. But, notes Metcalf, this is a good year. From what I've heard and personally observed, the students are considerably better.

It can be very disruptive, the classroom," he said. "I'm hoping that is how the discipline committee will take up the question, how do I avoid those kinds of problems? That is, what the committee really needs to do – answer the question, how do I avoid those kinds of problems?

Health director roasted

Dr. Lawrence Bergner, outgoing director of the Seattle-King County Department of Health, was roasted by colleagues at Thursday's dinner. Bergner’s term as di­

Dr. Bergner said that several cities, counties and states are convinced that he can help solve their public health pro­blems. "I probably can," he said, "but I don’t want to. Time for a change and since some people think I am needed, I have been thinking of do­ing something in the private sector. Now if some­one in the private sector will just think of trying me," Dr. Bergner said.

Qualified personnel needed for hearing impaired classes

Qualified substitute teachers and teacher aides are needed to work with hearing impaired students at Valley View Elementary School. Interested persons should contact the Highline School District personnel at 834-3343 for more information.

Wood heating is topic

Puget County cover sources say that wood, heating oil and gas are not the same thing, according to Dr. Bergner. Bergner will be how to prepare wood for burning and how to keep it.

Death on Pacific Highway South

A YAOHMA WOMAN, Shyloved Lor D. Macomber, of 303 30th Ave. E., was killed instantly Friday evening when the Volkswagen she was driving collided head-on with the automobile in the foreground, which Washington State Patrol sources said crossed the center line. Truphery identified the driver of the larger automobile as Santiago Lopez, 21, of 3848 8th St. NW, and said they took a sample of Lopez's blood to determine whether alcohol was involved. Macomber's car and a third vehicle damaged in the accident, a van, were not involved.

"If this matter were left unchallenged," Noel said, "it could have the possibility that no energy facility could ever be located in the state.

Caution required for buses

Highline area motorists were reminded again this week of traffic laws relating to school buses. A school bus stopped at the edge of the roadway, with stop sign extended and red lights flashing, is taking on or letting off passengers, according to Ted Gary, bus safety consultant to the Highline School District. It is unlawful for cars approaching the bus from either direction to proceed, he said. They must stop and wait until the red lights stop flashing and the stop sign is retracted.

Recently, an unloading Highline school bus was struck from the rear by a car that had stopped in accordance with the law, but was run into from behind by another car. No one was injured, but considerable damage was done.

"On these dark mornings and afternoons," Gary said, "drivers must be especially cautious of school buses loading and unloading. The children often cross the street after getting off the bus. We don't want any tragedies caused by an inattentive autoist."

School bus drivers have reported recently that an unusual number of cars do not observe the law and pass the bus while its red lights are flashing, according to Gary.

It's beginning to look (yawn) a lot like Christmas

Some people shop early. They're the ones sitting at home right now, feet up on a hassock, fire roaring, hot toddy steaming nearby. Some don't shop at all. They're probably out there in the garage getting sawdust in their pants cuffs, risking their thumbs and knuckles with sharp instruments, to make you a breadboard or a wine rack or a choo choo train (for your rug rat).

Most however, are sloshing through the parking lots, standing in line at counters, piling up the charge account. In the spirit of Christmas, your friends and neighbors are out shopping.

Our photographer found a few of them doing what comes naturally this week at Sea-Tac Mall, taking a break from the hard work of shopping. Even the stroller passengers and the normally unquenchable five year olds were beginning to show signs of wear and tear. Well, maybe Christmas morning it will all be worth it.

THE JOY OF Christmas shopping doesn't seem to bother 11-month-old McKenna at all, in fact, "she thinks this is great," said mom Diane Dotson.

FOUR-YEAR-old Henry Caudle appears to be wondering if all the wear and tear is worth it as he waits for Mom to finish her Christmas shopping. Come Christmas morning, he's sure to think so.

DINING SPOTS on the mall were filled as weary shoppers stopped to refuel.

Okert-Geraghty vows solemnized

First Baptist Church on Highway 99 was the scene of the wedding of Mrs. Lynn Ann Sibley and the Rev. John Sibley, both of Wilsonville. The bride was the daughter of John and Pat Geraghty of Wilsonville, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Geraghty of White Center.

Both the bride and groom were married at the same church as their parents, and Mrs. Rod Soderlund, Mary Retzloff, and Maryann Seidensticker were bridesmaids. The bride and groom were also married in the same room as their parents.

For another touch of family, the wedding reception was held in the Federal Way Elks Club, and the bride's stepbrother, Frank Sibley of Seattle, and the bride's great-uncle, James Sibley, were married in the same room as the groom.

The couple took a wedding trip to Lake City, Ore., and they are making their home in White Center.

Craig Webster served as the best man. Seating the guests were Alan Christianson, John Sibley and Larry Webster of Wilsonville.

The Warmth of an Old Fashioned Christmas. Season's greetings from our family to yours.
The Modern Mom
by Betty Wooten

The true test of a good mother is not whether she keeps the cookie jar filled, serves quillett quillets, is willing to do housework, or can remember to bring a lunchbox to school, because it's whether she's willing to give in the dead of night to drive the kids to the ski hill.

Behind every young mother is a sleepless mother with a raincoat over her shoulders and a bedroom slippers on her feet, who drives her kids from the ski hill, who arranges for the babysitter, who fords the river that the car won't cross, and فهو the one who has to get up early morning next day.

Her day begins at 5 a.m. when the alarm clock booms. She's not the one to panic and say, "I want ham and I want eggs." She prays, "I want ham and I want eggs," and darts the bedroom door, forgetting the whole thing.

But a glimpse in the mirror indicates she is on the move, so she takes a deep breath, grinds her teeth and forgives her errors.

On her way to the kitchen she stumbles over ski boots, boots, potholder and perhaps that great, great, great, great, great floor-length dress.

The bride, a 1974 graduate from Yakima Valley College.

The gown, of lace and leather fern. She also carried a bouquet of pink and green baby roses, baby's breath with pink and green baby roses. She attended Green River High School, and he attended Green River Community College.

The couple honored guests at the reception held in the Terrace Room, Morrison Inn in Yakima.

The bride was in her mother's gown worn at her wedding in 1979. The groom was in his parents' wedding suit, and his sister was in a dress and hat.

At the ceremony on the front lawn of the Morrison Inn in Yakima were the ushers, the bride's father, Mike Thompson, and the bridegroom's best man, and Dane Cross, Par-

Kevin Ott, Thomas Jefferson Raider wrestler tries to stay off his back in his 129-pound match at the Auburn Invitational Wrestling Tournament held last weekend at Auburn High School. Ott failed to make a first-match pin over Mt. Rainier’s Bob Nichols, Nichols falling to Decatur’s Ken Gormous in his second-round battle.

Rams sacked the Indians to carve out a 27-0 win, while Frank won a first-round battle, pinning Pete Steinke of C-2 at 4:30.

The Rams did make two mistakes, however, an 18-pounder in Friday’s tourney, registering a first-match pin over Mt. Rainier’s Bob Nichols, Nichols falling to Decatur’s Ken Gormous in his second-round battle. Hyde, the Raiders 115-pounder, was first place winner with two wins and two losses, while Ron Poluman matched a third place ranking.

We’ll be in both these matches,” Sloan predicted. “We have some experienced people and they make some mistakes, but we should do fairly well this week.”

Slow starting Eagles rise above Viking cagers, 57-40

It was a bit like waiting for the train to take off. It takes a while, but the outskirts of Federal Way girls basketball are starting to make their way in. The Eagles opened their season by climbing to 57-40 South Puget Sound League victories over the Curtis Vikings.

The Eagles girls found themselves down by one point at the close of the initial quarter as the Eagles fell behind a strong start by the Vikings. The Eagles started to assert their dominance on the court as the second period began, throwing in two quick jumpers off fast break passes. The Eagles took back their lead and ended the half up 32-22, while the Vikings relied on a more disciplined press that rattled the Eagles. In the third quarter as the Eagles took a 10-point lead, the Vikings' press played a more disciplined game, but the Eagles held Curtis to a 23-17 second half. Federal Way managed to pull away from Curtis with key points that cut the score to 48-36. Despite poor refereeing following the half, Federal Way maintained its lead and went on to win the contest with four quick hoops, going up 18-22, while holding Curtis scoreless for nearly five minutes.

"We started out slow tonight," coach Greg Bragg said. "But after we broke their game they played pretty well. I think they stayed in it a little longer than they should have.

Contest deadline is Friday

The deadline for the You Pick Em Bowl Game Forecasting contest is noon Friday. All entries will be considered up to the deadline time but arrive after the deadline time will not be accepted. Anyone can enter. Late entries will not be accepted.

The deadline for the You Pick Em Bowl Game Forecasting contest is noon Friday, December 21, to be entered at the newspaper offices listed in the newspaper ad on page 13 of this edition. The winner will receive a $100 prize.
Eagle swimmers tank third straight win

The Federal Way Eagle swim team was tanking a third straight prep league victory Thursday, clipping 2A Jeff Hines, 114-47.

"It was tough for a meet of our size," Eagle coach Jeff Hines said. "It was a tough week for us this week, though.

Gators meet with mat success, failure

The Dorothy Gator wrestling squad may be inexperienced, but they are from Federal Way, and were ready to face a state qualifying match the other day.

The Gators placed ninth in the tournament, while Mike Eddie and John Max both finished in the top six at Saturday's Federal Way Invitational.

"Things will get harder for us this regionals and state," said Coach Mark Nilson.

Rainier boys caught in Highlander tide

The Mt. Rainier Rams' boys' swim team dropped dual meets to both Federal Way and Hazel High School last Thursday afternoon, before bowing 305-291.

"Overall we did well," Rainier coach Paula Stokke commented. "We had two firsts and third places in the meet, although we really are not as deep this season as we were last year."

The Rams, however, garnered a large share of honors in the meet. Junior O.B. Petersen captured the 100-yard freestyle (52.65) and the 100-yard butterfly (1:00.3; 2, Hazen 1:16.5; 2, MR (Clements) 1:04.7; 3, Kazan 1:10.7). Petersen also won a second and third place with the 200-meter individual medley and the 200-yard freestyle.

Paul Clement and Charlie Panczuk added points with their finishes in the 100-yard backstroke (1:20.9) and the 200-yard backstroke (2:13.4; 2, MR (Clements) 2:18.9; 3, Linda Lee).

Paul Stokke was the winner in the 100-yard freestyle with a 54.5-second clocking, while John Phillips and Fritz Petersen took third at 1:01.7.

"We haven't swum our best yet," Stokke added. "We're young and have a lot of work to do."

Vandalism hit country club, school; damages $10,000

King County detectives are seeking three local teenagers in connection with the vandalism of the Twin Lakes Country Club and the Angle Lake Junior High School.

Detectives said the suspects are part of the same band of teenagers that has extensively vandalized Twin Lakes Plaza, a business and professional center where rowdy and often drunken teens sometimes congregate.

An estimated $1,800 worth of watches, television sets, phonographs and other items were stolen at the Angle Lake Junior High School, striking the roadway before dawn Friday. An employee of the school said they were severely damaged or destroyed.

The youths reportedly drove the automobile onto the golf course at several locations and để destroyed rapidly, tearing up grass and putting rocks into the turf around bunkers. The suspect automobiles contained Oregon license plates.

Police said the vandalism had also occurred at the school's athletic facilities at about 3 a.m. Tuesday. Damage to the tennis courts, track, athletic field and gym was estimated at $1,000, Detective Joe MacDonald said.

Police believe the suspects were driving an automobile with Oregon license plates. A man was expected to exceed $1,000, Detective Douglas McDonald said.

Municipal bonds

While anticipating the shock of your 1979 taxes, consider investing some of your "mad money" in local municipal bonds. Generally, you should find a bond issue to finance a new city building, a new school, or some other local government purpose. These are municipal bonds and the interest you receive from them is free of federal income tax.

Recently, municipal bonds have been offered for sale by King County, the Port of Seattle, and the City of Seattle. The interest rate on these bonds is normally from 6% to 8%.

In investing in municipal bonds means losing your money to these political organs who agree to return your money to you at a specified rate. Normally the interest is paid semiannually. Generally, if your income is at least $25,000 or more you will find that the yield from the municipal bonds exceeds the after-tax return on other taxable investments.

When buying bonds, consider using funds from a broker, normally in amounts of $5,000 or more.

Probably the strongest appeal of municipal bonds lies in the relative safety of the investment. As a security, a municipal bond is considered solely in federal government obligations.

You should be aware, however, that the setting prices for municipal bonds is directly related to the yield rates. If you sell your bonds before maturity, you may lose all or part of the yield you paid for them. If interest rates have decreased, you may lose all or part of the yield you paid for them. If you don't sell your bonds before maturity, you might bring more or less than the yield you paid for them.

Pork Crown Roast with Stuffing A la Waldorf

"The season for holiday entertaining. And what a merry time of year it is! There are many directions party plans can take, but no matter if the festivities are large or small, formal or casual, good friends plus good food always add up to a good time for all.

In the occasion calls for a traditional dinner, make it an elegant affair with a regal Pork Crown Roast. This delicious, special people or a family feast, all hands will bend toward the magnificent roast as it comes to the table beautifully browned and brimming with a golden stuffing.

The crown is fashioned by the meat retailer during the holiday period. Be it a special gathering of many directions party plans can take, but no matter if the festivities are large or small, formal or casual, good friends plus good food always add up to a good time for all.

Pork Crown Roast with Stuffing A la Waldorf

Pork Crown Roast, rib ends down on rack in open roasting pan, broil and do not add oil. Roast in a preheated 350-degree oven for 2 hours. Remove from oven.

Turn roast so that rib ends are up. Insert roast meat thermometer in the thickest part of the roast, making certain that it does not touch bone. Cover apple, celery and onion in butter 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in herb seasoned stuffing mix, pecans and grated orange peel; add water and toss lightly to combine. Fill cavity of crown roast with stuffing and continue cooking meat thermometer registers 160-degrees. Cook roast for 15 to 20 minutes or until meat thermometer registers 160-degrees during this period.

Smoked Sausage Roll-Ups

3 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 cup apple juice
Dash garlic powder
3 tablespoons dry sherry
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Yield: 32 appetizers)

Sausage Ball Appetizers

3 or 4 red apples
Juice,

Serve apple wedges, goldfish crackers and snack sticks with cheese spread.

THREE-CHEESE SPREAD

1 cup of a mini muffin pan, forming a ridge at the top. Comines ham, cheese and chives, toasting lightly to mix. Place 2 teaspoons of mixture in each pastry-lined cup. Combine egg, milk and dry sherry; slowly pour over ham mixture. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven for 15 to 20 minutes. Cool slightly, remove from pan. Serve in 48 small balls; brown on all sides in large frying-pan. Pour off drippings.

Combine apple juice, vinegar, sugar, mayonnaise, horseradish over meatballs. Bring to boil, stirring occasionally; reduce heat, cover apple, celery and onion in butter 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in herb seasoned stuffing mix, pecans and grated orange peel; add water, tossing lightly to combine. Fill cavity of crown roast with stuffing and continue cooking meat thermometer registers 160-degrees. Dairy foods make best breads

The enjoyment of baking is one of the loveliest and healthiest hobbies a person can have. But the baking, the giving — and I sure hope you make many gifts of bread — the eating of bread is usually the most rewarding part of this delightful task.

Goodness knows for how many centuries the art of baking bread has been a part of our national heritage. There are countless references to the baking bread in the Bible and the writings of the Ancients. Perhaps nothing makes more of a home than its fragrance, its aroma of fresh bread. To be able to make bread in your own kitchen is a source of pride and comfort.

Grades of bread are a bit of a befuddling subject. When you compare breads of similar ingredients, however, they are usually graded as high, medium or low. Usually, low-grade breads are the ones with the least eyebrow raising. High-grade breads are the ones worth the price. Medium-grade breads are usually somewhere in the middle.

Here are a few breads to serve your guests during the holidays. They are all made with real ingredients and will add finishing touches to the holiday menus.

Swedish Muffins

1 cup sugar
1 1/4 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 egg
1/3 cup melted butter

2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped raisins
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. cardamom

Cream cheese spread

For soups and stews make a flavorful broth by simmering aromatic herbs and vegetables with water. When cooking for stuffing, add the herbs dry until needed. For stuffing add one teaspoon of soy sauce or molasses per 2 cups dressing or stuffing. For roasts, vegetables and soups, add the herbs dry to the cooking. For soups, stews, green and white beans, add the herbs dry to the cooking. For soups, stews, green and white beans, add the herbs dry to the cooking. that every hunter who reads this will feel it is more than about them. Maybe he does.

Many chefs and cooks will tell you to roast them in a very low oven, 250 to 300 degrees for 30 to 45 minutes. I have for many years felt that most meats benefit from slow roasting, as I was pleased when a woman who used to work in our advertising department and whose husband and son brought home ducks always roasted them at 250 degrees. Carls brought me a couple of ducks, and I roasted them just as she had suggested, and they were delicious. Actually they were roasted just the same as we do Cornish game birds, 250 degrees for approximately an hour and a quarter.

Mallards may be stuffed if you wish, and a rice stuffing is especially good. Whatever stuffing you use, I think it is important to put a plenty of onion and celery, and you need not stuff the birds at all. Many people merely put a piece of onion with space in between in order to brown nicely. Put them bread and instead of roasting the bird with butter or margarine.

OUR DUCKS were rubbed lightly all over with dry onion soup mix which seasoned them very well. My husband cooked them in a shallow pan of onion and celery in the cavity for seasoning and rub the outside. As for the home or chicken parts, the duck should be placed in a shallow pan of onion soup in which the duck is turned. If there is surplus fat in the pan, you’ll want to skim it off before disposing of the drippings for another gravy. Whatever you do, don’t put the duck in the oven until just before you are ready to use, as it will become very tough if it sits long.

A ring of cranberry pineapple sliced salad with either chicken or turkey, served as a main course, will center your guests. The sharp flavored aspic may contain strips of avocado or sliced stuffed olives for a touch of green. As you have perfect Christmas colors with just the bright red cranberry pineapple ringed by cups of lettuce and large black and green olives, it’s a great flavor combination too.

Santas may want to stop by at your house twice if you have two kinds of delectable cookies in the kitchen. They are sure to be a welcome treat.

(recipe)

For Christmas, try making some traditional cookies like sugar cookies, gingerbread, or shortbread. The secret to making perfect cookies is to roll out the dough thinly and cut out shapes with floured cookie cutters. Bake them for a few minutes until lightly browned and golden. Cool on racks, then store in an airtight container.

If you've always had a yen to be a policeman, Normandy Park is looking for volunteers.

"There's been some confusion on the intent of the Legislature about how the money is to be spent. Interpreting Legislative intent is causing us all kinds of havoc," Perez explained.

He believes the intent is to beef up existing programs. Only the message he gets is that the county is to be open for new programs.

Perez said he'd like to have some definite answers from the county. He objected to the county's cancellation of two meetings with himself and other staff.

"Do we need the county?" asked Eleanor Rhees, center director.

"If we eliminate one layer of administration, we may increase the money we get back to the grass roots." Perez added, "It sure would help us."

He expects almost $5,000 more from the state, above approximately $100,000 distributed by the county. Hopefully, that is, he said. This year, the center received about $120,000, plus some additional monies from private institutions. Of course, the chief difference is the uncertainty of how to fill two vacant counselor positions.

The center runs on a $1-million budget. One third, approximately, is directly from federal sources. Only 10 percent stems from user fees, charged on a sliding scale.

Perez takes over the helm of a large organization. Fifty-seven percent of the 160 clients per month. He will serve until the board selects a permanent director. The last permanent director, Don Seidemann, recently resigned after four years of duty.

Meanwhile, Perez runs the center, handling the hundreds of clients. His experience includes directing day treatment programs.

He feels confident he'll see the current problems through.

Seidemann, new Valley General Hospital program coordinator for psychiatric services, said he left for three reasons: Career enhancement, money and "Somehow, it was burned out by itself," he said. "Upon dealing with two bureaucracies in adjustment, it was suffocating."

The center points the finger at the state, and the state points the finger at the county, he found. He said he favors dealing only with the county. "But I'm not on a soapbox," Seidemann added.

Local forensic teams compete in tourney

Forensic teams from Evergreen, Highline and Mt. Rainier high schools fared well during competition at the prestigious Western Invitational, hosted by Federal Way High School. Mt. Rainier placed seventh in the Senior Division and the junior division. Evergreen, the host school, placed second in Senior Division and third in Junior Division. Mt. Rainier’s team competed in the Sr. Sweepstakes. That team, along with Evergreen, Highline and Mt. Rainier’s team, will be peddling away right here, as well as there, throughout the rest of the school year.

Mt. Rainier’s team earned third place in the Senior Division. To compete in tourney Wednesday, December 19, 1979

Mt. Rainier debate coach Lou Pappas said the Western Invitational is one of the better invitational events held in the state each year. "It is "very, very competitive. The better teams in the state are always there."

The teams included:

Highline — Vern Edgall, Dave Axtell, Veronique Peterson and Todd Baker.

Mt. Rainier — Karen Laughlin, junior division; Karen Bigger, junior division; Tami Zehrung, junior division; Natalie Ball, junior division; Davis Peterson, junior division; Tomie Conners, junior division; Fatima Axtell, junior division; Tomie Conners, senior division; Tami Zehrung, senior division; Mt. Rainier, third place; Ed Swenson, senior division; Mt. Rainier, third place.

The junior division semifinalist was Evergreen; Mt. Rainier was third place.

Individual results were:

Oral interpretation: Davis Peterson, junior division; Tami Zehrung, senior division; Ed Swenson, senior division. Mt. Rainier, fourth place.

Individual results were:

Extemporaneous speaking: Veronique Peterson, junior division; Ed Swenson, junior division; Tammy Brown, senior division; Bemie Pratt, championship quarterfinalist; Tomie Conners, junior division; Natalie Ball, junior division; Davis Peterson, junior division; Tomie Conners, junior division;

Mt. Rainier, second place.

Improvisation speaking: Bemie Pratt, junior division; Todd Axtell, junior division; Bemie Pratt, junior division; Davis Peterson, junior division.

Mt. Rainier, third place.

The main event was the debate tourney, which was divided into two categories. Mt. Rainier’s team was in the Senior Division, Evergreen was in the Junior Division.

Dave Groom, Jim Axtell and Dave Nichols, junior division; Ed Swenson, senior division; Davis Peterson, junior division.

Christmas is a time to share, to deliver gifts and visit with 2,000 people who will not be able to spend the holidays at home. Forms delivering gifts on Christmas.

The eighth annual Holiday Hospital Project is inviting the public to join them in coordinating the project, i.e. wrapping and preparing gifts, and delivering gifts on Christmas.

As in previous years, the project will be coordinated by volunteers who have taken part in previous efforts by volunteering, through this year, 1980-81. The University will set up an Investment Fund is sponsored by Ellensburg, along with university faculty and staff. The University will accept applications Jan. 11, 1980, until mid-March. Forms can be obtained from all Washington high school and community college counselors.

The University will accept applications for the one-year, full-time scholarship, i.e. to support the project. There are currently 2,000 out-of-state students and adults who might otherwise not have spent the holidays at home. It is also an opportunity for people to discover that their lives can make a difference in the world, that starting at home is the true gift of the season.

The project is funded by contributions from 1,000 out-of-state students and adults who have spent the holidays at home. It is also an opportunity for people to discover that their lives can make a difference in the world, that starting at home is the true gift of the season.

You are invited to participate in the Holiday Hospital Project. Here's a holiday gift for yourself— "Partners In Crime," a royal holiday at home with one thousand parents and visit with 1,000 parents.

On Christmas day, tons of people participating in the Holiday Hospital Project will deliver the gifts to hospitals and convalescent homes between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

- Everything you want from a store... and a little bit more.
If you are not one of those organized people who has fruitcakes made well in advance, these are for you. With the help of your friends, you can make an enormous batch of them. You can also store these for several months, if you like, and then make them into a fine delicious version any time you please. And they make great gifts! You can make your own Christmas cards mail-or by the day after office suggestions, take heart. Gifts from the kitchen always put an enthusiastic reception, and these can be made at the last minute, if necessary. A fruitcake recipe can vary as many different ways as we are. Use any or not quick bread mix. Sifted together will do most fruitcakes that may prefer Holliday's 79. Forty uses a big advantage. It can be easy as seen as it can be completely ready, or be a little. Holliday's is the one that will be able to help you prefer. It's a big fruitcake, based in a luscious pecan, makes a truly impressive gift. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C). Prepare a 9 x 13 inch baking pan or a 10 inch round pan. Rub the bottom and sides of the pan with butter or shortening. In a large mixing bowl, cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in flour mixture, baking soda, baking powder, and salt. Mix well. Stir in nuts. Fill prepared pan, BAKE IN preheated 350-degree oven for 50 to 55 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack 10 minutes, then remove from pan and cool completely. In a large mixing bowl, cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. COUUPON
FRUIT COCKTAIL (Yield: 3 cups)

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 cup chopped walnuts, toasted
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped pineapple, drained
1 can (15-ounces) whole pineapple chunks, drained
1 can (8-ounces) cranberry juice
1 can (29-ounces) pineapple juice
1 cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon gelatin

PASTE EN CROUITE (Yield: 4-6 cups)

Cream Cheese Pastry

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter, softened
1 cup heavy cream

Prepare pastry in a large mixing bowl. Combine flour, salt, and butter in a food processor. Process until the mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add cream and process until the dough is smooth and sings. Chill for 20 minutes. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into 2-inch rounds. Place on a baking sheet. Bake at 375°F for 12 minutes. Mix 1 cup heavy cream with 3 tablespoons of sugar. Chill. Roll up the pastry and pour the cream mixture on top. Chill until ready to serve.

CAKES AND BAKING

Butter a 9-inch baking pan. Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine and mix well:

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup margarine
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Beat the margarine and sugar together until creamy. Add the eggs and beat well. Add the flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Beat until well combined. Add the vanilla and beat until well mixed. Pour into the prepared pan and bake for 25-30 minutes. Cool completely. Remove from the pan and serve.
