In dreams begin great communities

The first classified ad for the city of Federal Way:
WANTED: HELP WANTED. Dreamers and planners needed to create a new city.

Cities are only collective dreams, after all. Making them humanely possible is a dreamer’s challenge, too. "In dreams," wrote Walt Whitman, "we come true is a dreamer's obligation."

Cities may be accidents of history, born out of necessity. But those are not what we think of when we think of cities. Good cities—small ones—are the tangible expression of communal ideals.

While we haggle over every park bench the city installs, we neglect the real work. The lively faces, the human charms and foibles that emerge here like a photo in a scrapbook.

We are excited here by the prospect of reporting to this community about this historic change, and will not forget that the story has a human dimension, that common sense will be our highest priority. All interested residents are welcome here.

It is about time the people of King County give some thought to what they are creating. An area of crime such as this county has never seen, and it is a hazard to every human being that is served by this county. After all, we add to the cost at the state and national level in every small area with a coast of something that we pay.!

We already have many police chiefs, each of which has a chance to fail. They are non-productive members.

A study of absentee rates at an elementary school near the Mid-County Waterfall indicates no relationship between weather and the number of days students stayed home from school. Results of the study, conducted at Midcounty Elementary by the state Department of Social and Health Services, were presented to the Federal Way School Board at its Monday meeting.

"Frank Lake Defoe, chair of the study, said the Midcounty Elementary's absentee rate was not significantly different than Lake Defoe's.

Lake Defoe was chosen as the control school because the two schools are near the landfill but in contrasting geographic qualities with Transfort, said Frank Parson, who performed the study for DSHS.

Wisners cautioned that the study should not be construed as clearing the landfill from having any effect on the health of people living near it, only that an increase in absenteeism at Bastion could not be detected.

Wisners was not present when the report was presented by the Bastion Action Coalition a group of Bastion neighbors worried that the dump has made pets sick.

Harold Z. Johnsons, MD, FAAP

 Approximately 40 percent of the students who attended a Bastion Elementary open house Wednesday evening walked into the school with their parents.

Wiseans said the school was not the setting for the Bastion Elementary open house.

"It just felt like it didn't have to be a Bastion Elementary open house," said one parent.

Bastion Elementary was operated by the Washington State Department of Social and Health Services.

Jeffer son posts wins in opener

The Tacoma Jefferson boys and girls track teams opened their seasons Thursday with a victory at South Kitsap.

The Raiders boys team took on the Eagles in a dual meet, and the girls competed against Decatur.

Jefferson captured first place in 17 of the 20 events.

The boys team scored 117 points, while the girls scored 86. South Kitsap scored 83 for the boys, and 68 for the girls.

In the girls' division, the Raiders' Jasmine Moore took first place in the 100 meters, while teammate Cameron Roll was second.

Other top finishers for Jefferson included: halves Justine Enos in the 400 meters (59.6) and Kelsie Albers in the 800 meters (2:05.9).

Other Jefferson winners included: three events in the shot put (Kaitlin Williams, 34-5; Kristina Bagen, 32-9; and Cassie Spreadbury, 26-5), three in the high jump (Williams, 5-4; Albers, 5-2; and Williams, 4-11), and three in the discus (Williams, 96-6; Albers, 92-4; and Spreadbury, 82-5).

Jefferson's boys team won every one of their events except for the 110 hurdles, where they were second.

Track and Field

By TIM CLINTON

For the past four years, the Jefferson football team has been a game of two halves.

"We're a brand new team," said head coach Tim Holmboe. "The pitfall we often seem to have is not playing well enough in the first half and then falling apart in the second half. We just haven't been able to tie it all together."

The Raiders finished in fourth place in the South Puget Sound League's district league play, and are looking to improve on that performance this season.

The team is led by quarterback Jeff Berry, who was named the league's Most Valuable Player last year. Berry completed 116 of 197 passes for 1,620 yards and 12 touchdowns, with only three interceptions.

The Raiders also have a strong running game, with fullback Tommy Martin leading the way with 691 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Jefferson is expected to have a strong defense as well, with senior linebacker John Smith returning after missing last year due to injury.

The team is looking to contend for the district title, and hopes to improve on their fourth place finish from last year.

"Our goal is to be a contender in the league," said Holmboe. "We're looking to improve in every aspect of the game, and to compete for a league championship."

The Raiders open their season on Friday, September 7 against Decatur.
Gators keep Spirit Trophy for another year

Trophy. School District athletic director. Gary Brines, Federal Way during an announcement by Federal Way and Thomas Jefferson walkers from local spirit and sportsmanship during September and was based on school team is on the track at one time One runner/walker from each and other organizations will run a race with each other on the track, camping out in either tents, maintaining or camps. Our runners/walkers from each team on the run Friday, October 18, at 5:00 p.m. Sponsored by the American Cancer Society, the West Central Way-Wee-Tec Unit, organizers of the annual event have a fundraising goal of $50,000. The Fun in the Sun Run began in 1982 when Dr. Gordon Koll, a Phoenix surgeon, ran and walked on a Tucson track for 18 hours. He covered a total of 125 miles in his attempt to break a world record and from completion of the event with him. He will be honored in half-hour walks beside him in half-hour walks. From that experience, Koll said the event allows for many to participate in the run against cancer.

Workers needed for corps

The Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission’s Youth Corps is currently recruiting young people between the ages of 16 and 21 to participate in a work program this summer at two state parks. Youngsters who are selected will work this summer and have an opportunity for a future career in conservation. Corps camp either at Port Gamble, Whidbey Island, or at Fort Worden or Flaming Geyser State Park. Corps provide an opportunity to work out doors, earn money for their own needs, have fun and develop new skills.

Flaming Geyser, located east of Anacortes on Olga Road, is 52 miles south of Seattle. Fort Worden, just outside of Port Townsend, is located north of the Olympic Peninsula. For an application form or more information, contact the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission, Office of Youth Programs, 1550 Class of 1982 Building, Olympia, WA, 98504-5711, or call 753-5775.

Workers said that the spectators strive to balance between positive spirit at games and showing good behavior. "We aked them to do just as we asked, we want them to be less," he said, while also adding it's important for fans to act in an "appropriate manner."

"Negative behavior has not been a problem among Gator fans, though, at either some or away games." "I know they're going to act in an aggressive way," Ward said. The presentation of the Gator High Spirit Trophy, named after the school district's athletic director from 1980 to 2001 and is new executive secretary of the West Central District, is good for the school, Ward explained. "It's great for our student morale and is great for our school," he said. The trophy has served as "proof of a rallying point" for Doucet. Ward said, adding that the trophy "will serve as a reminder to us and help "re-establish some pride in our new head coach." Although the Gators have won the Spirit Trophy during the past two years of existence, Ward said, "It's tough for us for all three high schools."

Wenk noted that he hopes the positive behavior students have learned will have a long-lasting effect.

"Hopefully this will be behavior some of them take with them the rest of their lives," he said. "Our goal is to win it next year."

The Red Hat’s Spirit Trophy is sponsored by The Federal Way News and Rick Denton of L &V. weaving. Students, parents, and coaches were evaluated at games on observance of both student and spectator behavior. Presentation of colors and the national anthem, responses to player introductions, cheerleader enthusiasm, leadership, responses to rulings and representation of player performance by students and parents.
