Three workers injured in falls at sewer plant

By KURT HERZOG

Two separate accidents in three days have resulted in injuries to three workers at the Federal Way Waster and Sewer District's Lakota sewage treatment plant.

On April 25, Pease and Sons Construction Co., the primary contractor building the plant, was injured when the guard railing on scaffolding they were on collapsed. Both workers fell about 30 feet into a concrete rectangular hole.

On March 9, the company's 6-foot Gerald Forler, suffered a fractured skull, and was airlifted to Harborview Medical Center where he was listed in serious condition yesterday.

The 35-year-old David Pease of Enumclaw, suffered a broken leg and injuries to his neck after being hit by a forklift they were on, according to a fireman at the hospital.

Three workers injured in a scaffolding accident at the Lakota sewage treatment plant are in very early stages of site development.

Regency Woods takes shape

By ANN SCHROEDER HARTMAN

Regency Woods is in early stages of site development, and residents of Federal Way and nearby Milton are preparing for traffic problems during construction for some time.

When Milton heard about the 150-acre commercial and residential development going up right across the city's north­ern border, the administration requested a traffic light be in­stalled at its busy intersection with Meridian Road. The light is needed to control traffic from the West Campus of the Federal Way Community College, Regency Woods, and Gayle Gardens, side close.

The traffic light was installed about three months ago, ready for the expected increase.

When Albertson's grocery store moved to a huge new store in Milton on Meridian Avenue across the street from the Surprise Lakes Shopping Center, Albertson's representa­tives told Milton City leaders that the development was based on anticipated development in Edgewood and at Regency Woods, she said.

Milton is making ready, brac­ing itself for the expected surge of more people, more cars, buses, and trucks.

The team is considering hiring experts in the area of planning, land use, local legal issues, and financing. They are asking for help from others.

Among those who may be helpful to the team are people who have been involved in political campaigns. They have members who have discussed hiring expert consultants, according to Mervyn Mitchell, team chair.
