Safeway, Bartell to anchor center

The Safeway store, has not been signed, said Kevin Morrison, a leasing representative for First Western Properties. "If we can sell the homes improvement or clothing square feet and Bartell will be housed in 14,484 square feet. A third anchor tenant, most likely a home improvement or clothing business, will be finished and have stores and businesses open by February 1990. The second phase, consisting of another 32,000 square feet, will be finished at an undetermined later date.

To ensure residents get all the help they need. King County will begin delivering the easy-to-assemble bins to homeowners. Those businesses will not be announced until contracts have been signed, he said.

County peddles recycling bins cheap

Some Federal Way residents can buy a color-comparative bin from King County for a specially advertised price of $2.25.

The county's Solid Waste Division is kicking off the composting program in the western side of incorporated King County. These businesses, such as fast-food restaurants, Morrison said.

A photo caption in Wednesday's Federal Way News incorrectly stated the bins are free. County spokesman said bins cheap.
Two boys arrested by man in blue van

Two boys were arrested Tuesday by a strange man they encountered while swimming in STAR Lake, south of Federal Way.

Lauren Devito, 10, and her friend, Ashley Corker, 10, said they were swimming in STAR Lake when a man pulled up in a blue van. The man reportedly asked if they wanted to travel to Hawaii. The boys told the man no and started swimming.

The man then asked the 10-year-olds if they would like to have a dip in the water and help them collect some things he had left behind. When the two agreed, the man asked again, and started pushing them near the water.

At that point, both boys swam away from the van. Later while wrestling, the boys said they heard the man approaching them. Not sure if he was behind them or if he had walked to the lakeshore, the boys said he was emerging from the woods.

The boys then said a man approached them and started walking behind them. They said the man then told them that he didn't want to be with anyone else.

After recounting the events to police, the boys said they decided to return to the van.

During his arrest, the man was booked into the King County Jail with a $25,000 bond. He is scheduled to appear in court at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The two boys said they were scared and didn't know what to do. They said they didn't know if the man had a weapon and they didn't want to take any risks.

During his booking, the man was charged with two counts of first-degree assault, one count of violation of civil rights and one count of harassment.

The boys said they were glad to have survived the experience and were grateful to the police for their help.
