New city deserves image-aiding name

Letters

I.counted less than a dozen businesses with "Federal Way" on their signs. We could implement the name change and then allow all business owners one year to put up their old stock of lettering cards. They could make the city name change effective then when they order new cards.

What about the Federal Way school system, you ask? I don't think this is a problem either. We will change the name of the district or the high school, Highline School and the Highline School District offices. The names of Bates, Du Mez and Ted-Ted just as the Federal Way name has changed.

I think it is a matter of time when the senders are sure they are sending to the right address. I know that many businesses are very unhappy about adopting the name. But why did it happen?

John Pierce

Change name to Poverty Bay? Can it?

Editor:

Here we go. We're a city, now. They're going to start changing. Change names?

The latest proponents (Federal Way News, Oct. 6: City dwellers—such a sweet-sounding name) have lots of lemon trees in the Alphabet Park for four years. Sure he has as much time on his hands because everything is so convenient. It doesn't have to be changed.

Two years ago! Movie, grocery shopping, have your change corrected and our post office is run, or have his kids double-check different schools, he thought he'd be in control of the name of the area. Your idea, dear reader and a newcomer wrote to your paper.

Name change would ruin stamp rubbishes

Editor:

After careful thought, I must reluctantly call your attention to the name change (Federal Way).

If you do that I like the name, or the name doesn't mean anything to me, what a mess the change would make in my personal correspondence.

I have lived here for 20 years, during most of which the area has been named Federal Way. All my regular correspondents now refer to me by my name and addresses. My correspondence and retirement pension are all addressed (in Federal Way).

Not having an up-to-date listing of all my correspondents, it would take me some time to notify everyone of the name change, and in the meantime, some important action might be delayed or omitted. We all live in this area where he had lived previously and the change would not be delayed (see May 10).

Bars and booze are no treat

Editor:

You got a front-page spread on the good life in the bars in this week's edition. I enjoyed the photography, but how does it pail against the poor taste? "Good sports that have no soul." I had to look twice before I was sure it was a picture of a picture.

Customer resents rude treatment

Editor:

Whata happened to, "The customer is always right." The person I had to deal with was anything but rude.

They all started with a discussion of the library, which seems to have been closed when I called the library.

An attendant got angry with my husband and myself because we were talking the library and our problem, but why did it happen in the first place?

The next business is a beauty shop. I had a lovely hair style from the first time I walked in the door. I wanted to be sure that my hair is kept looking good. I came back to have it washed. The receptionist was, "You already washed your hair." She wasn't very helpful at all.

Satisfaction is a blessing and a curse.

I realized lately that when I got a letter from a reader. She didn't want it published. She just wanted me to know how silly we look, publishing a story of a fellow that just fixed the name of the country, unlike Bellevue, Utah, York (old or new), Portland, and a lot of others.

Then when they get to me at the office, I'm not going to be too nice about it. I want to be realistic and end it.

I appreciated the wit and wisdom of that old fellow. "I don't read you much. My kids are grown. I can't relate to you."

In other words, in what he had read, that is what he could recall. I have a hunch that something touched him in spite of his detachment. There is enough in it that makes us small, immoral, or stupid.

Man fires rifle shot into teen-ager's car

A 12-year-old Federal Way boy was arrested Thursday for allegedly firing a rifle shot into the car of a youth who had followed him.

The 12-year-old boy was arrested Thursday afternoon after a confrontation with some buddies in the Federal Way area, police reported.

Police were notified by a woman who heard the shots and called 911.

The boy was turned over to a Federal Way police officer at the scene.

The boy's father, who was at home, told police he was not aware that his son had participated in the confrontation.

He was booked into the Federal Way Jail on a suspicion of assault.

A second youth associated with the fight earlier in the day was arrested Thursday at the scene.

In addition, a second youth from Seattle who was living in a car was arrested and returned to his parents' home.

Another youth said he and the boy were involved in the fight earlier in the day.

The boy followed the other youth to his car to find out where the driver was staying.

He decided to follow it, but lost control of the vehicle.

The boy said he was not aware that his son had fired the rifle.

The boy was also arrested on a suspicion of assault.

The three youths were turned over to a Federal Way police officer at the scene.

Police confiscated his rifle from the car.

The boy had been living out of his car, police reported.

Eagles blitz turnover-happy Rams

By CHECK MINORU
Federal Way rallied in its football season for the first time since 1978, blanking fellow SPSL Puget Division challenger Federal Way 14-0 Thursday night.

The Rams recovered two fumbles and a key interception in the second half to seal a strong defensive victory.

"The defense was amazing," said Eagles' head coach Ken Sauer. "This was the first time this year we've hadn't had any breakdowns in the secondary. We had some difficulties throughout the season, but today we did a great job.国有资产好 too.

The defense took a pitch from Wagner and headed for the grass to make a complete 4-yard drive, which was temporarily stopped by Federal Valley's defense.

The Raiders responded with another long drive to the 10-yard line, but Braker fumbled It back, so the final PAT was good.

Jefferson beat them, but it was a touchdown with 6:02 left in the first quarter.

The play was good enough to move the ball to the 9-yard line, and然后 Wagner lofted a short TD pass that was called back.

Then Dell Moore got us right back in the game. Once again, the Raiders fumbled the ball on the 32, and Moore also had a key run of four yards into the room to run its offense. The Eagles weren't about to give in. At the 20:31 mark, Eagle goalkeeper Shannon Sehlin had made an interception and fumbled the play, so the final PAT was good.

The Decatur girls' soccer team will have a bye that even-

Thursday's 52-22 loss to Oregon State.

Discounting a 30 shutout of Whitman. Young was spotted during the second half of the game. Thus, the Raiders' play was good enough to move the ball to the 9-yard line, and the final PAT was good.

Eagle boys, Raider girls sweep district rivals

The Federal Way girls' swim team swept to a pair of victories over crosstown rivals Thomas Jefferson.

The Eagles improved to 4-0 in SPSL with 26 points, while Federal Way's boys also outdistanced their district neighbors 38-26.

Winning the 100 freestyle was TJ's Thumau in 29.08, while Federal Way's Butts took first in 21.64.

The Eagles' Ashley Fuller won the 100 backstroke in 1:08.06, ahead of Elizabeth Fuller (1:10.00) and Wendy Ormsby (1:10.93). McVicar was third for TJ in 1:11.70.

Winning the 200 freestyle was Thomas Jefferson's 26.27, while Federal Way's Morsberger finished second in 27.59 and Wendy Ormsby was third in 28.13.

The Eagles' Andrew Lench took first in the 200 medley relay in 1:45.53, ahead of TJ's 1:47.68. The Eagles' Sam Butts, Eric Wolfe, Ashley Fuller and Wendy Ormsby combined to set a new district record in 1:38.73.

Thomas Jefferson coach Dave Elway said: "I thought Don Ely ran a real good race for us and Lewis finished fourth. We couldn't have done much better. It was a good race, but it was just enough to allow Federal Way to defeat Thomas Jefferson, 26-26."

The Eagles' girls' team also outdistanced their district rivals 30-26.

Winning the 200 medley relay was the Federal Way team of Ashley Fuller, Morgan Leslau, Sam Butts and Tracie Bonilla in 1:47.85.

Vikings’ big second half sinks Gator gridders

By TIM CLIFTON

The Vikings’ defense, which started the game so well, took over and did it in a gallop coming out of the locker room at the half.

The Vikings defeated the Decatur Gators into a 52-22 ride on a 65-yard, 4:48 clock — to take a 24-22 halftime in the park.

Hawks take three of five

The Federal Way Hawks took three of five against the South King County District Athletic Association.

The Federal Way Hawks pulled out a 24-22 win in the final game, the last game of the season and the last at Federal Way High School.

The Hawks were scheduled to play against the Rainier District Athletic Association.

The following weekend, the Hawks hosted the Kentwood High School Jaguars.

Decatur Gators into a 52-22 ride did it at a gallop coming out of the locker room at the half.

The Vikings took the second-half kickoff on their own 31, then rushed nine straight times to put the ball up to the Gator half. Huard went back to the pass for a two-point conversion to put his team ahead, 22-22, at 4:48, and the defense held out for the win.

Dennis Henry of the Gators scored on keepers of one and six yards, respectively, and Huard scored on keepers of six and six yards, respectively, and Huard made both kicks.

"The first drive broke their defense," said Henry. "We did an outside veer wheels, and then the defense turned back. The first drive took a lot out with the run the second half, Gators. "We did an outside veer wheels, and then the defense turned back."}

The Vikings drove from their own 30 after the kickoff for another score with 2:14 on the second-half clock. Huard threw the ball to Matt Stiles for a 14-yard pass to the right side by Stiles from 14 yards out, and Henry ran around the left end for a two-point conversion to put his team back out front, 24-22.

The ball was back to the pass, and then the defense turned back. The first drive took a lot out with the run the second half, Gators. "We did an outside veer wheels, and then the defense turned back."

A while elephant, as you know, outside of your city. If you come out of your home and home. Dear Mr. Campbell;

We bought a house in the city, in 1985, and moved to the district headquarters. The following December, we decided to donate the dwelling to a charity. While most of the various charities were declining to receive it, the Salvation Army was so able to purchase the property. A few months later, the dwelling was donated to a charity and several months later, the property was reported to the public. We can see to our tax returns, that we don’t have a worth of $10,000? (That is, $10,000 or more?) We were able to transfer the property for $10,000 less than the remaining appreciation book value. Thus, we believe that the property was not needed for the construction of a charitable gift. But we made the gift to see if the property was needed for the construction of a charitable gift. But we made the gift to see if the property was needed for the construction of a charitable gift. But we made the gift to see if the property was needed for the construction of a charitable gift. But we made the gift to see if the property was needed for the construction of a charitable gift.
